The Equal Rights Amendment: A Simple Guide

What is the ERA?

It is a 24 word statement affirming Equal Rights:

“Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.”

The Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) is an amendment to the U.S. Constitution to guarantee gender equality. America is the only major nation with a written constitution that does not guarantee gender equality.

The ERA was approved by Congress on March 22, 1972, and sent to the states for ratification.

Only 35 state legislatures ratified the ERA between 1972 and 1982, three states short of the necessary three-fourths (38) required for the Amendment to become law.

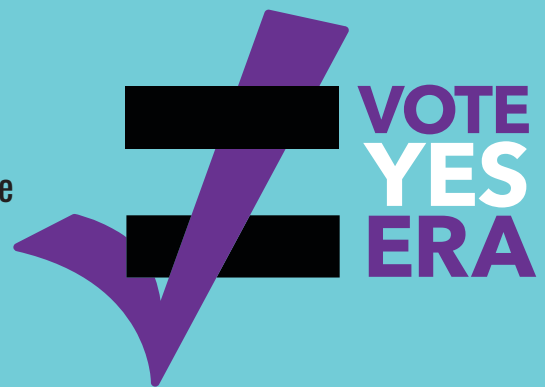

On March 22, 2017, and May 30, 2018, Nevada and Illinois became the 36th and 37th states, respectively, to ratify the ERA.

The ERA only needs one more state to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment and finally ensure gender equality under the law -- Virginia should be that state!

Sex/gender discrimination causes significant harm to women and men in society.

If you support...

- ✓ Equal pay for equal work
- ✓ An end to gender-based discrimination
- ✓ Equal justice for victims of rape and domestic violence
- ✓ Developing a culture of respect for women and men

Please support efforts to pass the Equal Rights Amendment today!

Passing the ERA would send a powerful message for the first time in history that the United States Constitution has zero tolerance for sex/gender discrimination.

Make history happen, Virginia!
Ratify the Equal Rights Amendment.
